

Dear FCC,
Technology has always outpaced political action or reaction. For once, please look to the future of satellite radio. This media has the potential that the larger broadcasters failed to capitalize on and now they (NBA) are trying strong arm tactics to unfairly limit local content on satellite radio. As a military member traveling across the country at times, satellite radio has been the steadfast solution to never finding the right or sometimes any radio station. Getting a heads up on the traffic and weather going into a large city, sometimes 100 miles or more away I can maximize my time and gas costs.

I respectfully urge you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and support satellite radio's ability to provide the kind of programming that I demand, deserve, and pay for.
